

Dexy

Look at the personality in those ears!! She is adorable now but she wasn't quite so cute when she came to our shelter. Even with bright red, itchy, smelly skin and only patchy hair on most of her body, no one could deny little Dexy had the cutest face and the personality to go with it. Dexy came to us covered in demodectic mange and a secondary skin infection as a result of the mange, but thanks to the support of our donors and our offsite infirmary care program, Dexy received the treatment she needed for this non contagious skin mite and is eagerly awaiting her chance to meet new people. Dexy is crate trained and housebroken, and she is working on walking on a leash and basic manners. She is now in great shape, has a fully body of soft hair, and is ready for a permanent address of her own. Dexy is a tom boy at heart, so don't think for a minute that she can't keep up with the big dogs and big kids ... She is perfect material for an active household.
